Peer Led Undergraduate Study (PLUS) Leader & Supplemental Instruction (SI) Leader Position
Information and Application

PLUS is a course offered for students dual enrolled in General Chemistry I and College Algebra where students meet twice per week and participate in activities facilitated by the PLUS Leader. Attendance by students enrolled in the course is required. The content covered in PLUS sessions is specific to the General Chemistry I lectures. PLUS Leaders lead two groups that meet twice per week for 50 minutes, for a total of four sessions. All PLUS classes will be offered in-person in the fall semester.

SI is an optional resource for students to attend for a variety of courses. Students can attend any sessions throughout the semester for their SI-supported course, and they participate in activities facilitated by the SI Leader. The content covered in SI sessions is specific to the course that the SI Leader is assigned. SI Leaders facilitate three 50-minute sessions per week (see exceptions below in “time and earnings” section. For the Fall 2022 semester, it is planned that SI sessions will be facilitated both in-person at the Academic Resource Center (ARC) located in the Iowa Memorial Union (IMU) or in the Seamans Center for Engineering courses, and virtually through Zoom. If we change to all in-person for SI, we will communicate that with you over summer.

General Job Description:
• Help students learn how to master course content in a group setting.
• Implement strategies to encourage and foster students’ development as independent learners.
• Work with students in a small and/or large group setting to develop academic skills (e.g. notetaking, organizational skills) for success.
• Serve as an academic role model; encourage collaborative learning & positive learning strategies.
• Create a friendly, supportive, positive, and inclusive learning environment.
• Attend all class meetings of the selected course to take notes and serve as a positive role model; if course is virtual and asynchronous, you are expected to review & understand all lecture material.
• Create lesson plans for each session and submit weekly.
• Facilitate four PLUS classes or three SI sessions per week.
• Attend all required training sessions and meetings (e.g. all-team meetings, individual meetings with supervisor, and individual/group meetings with faculty or biweekly team meetings).
• Complete all administrative responsibilities on time (e.g. check-in surveys, lesson plans, timecards).
• Keep supervisor informed about sessions and involved in the development of learning materials.

Time and Earnings:
• All new Leaders begin at $12.00/hour.
• PLUS Leaders work 10 hours per week, which includes 3 hours for lecture, 4 hours for PLUS classes, and 3 hours for planning & meetings (create 2 lesson plans and use twice, for a total of 4 sessions) during the semester (except finals week and university holidays).
• SI Leaders work 10 hours per week*, which includes 3 hours for lecture, 3 hours for SI sessions, and 4 hours for planning & meetings (see exceptions below) during the semester (except finals week and university holidays).
  • Engineering Fundamentals I: Statics and Physical Activity & Health – 9 total hours per week
    ▪ 2 hours for lecture, 3 hours for SI Sessions, 4 hours for planning & meetings

Applications and questions can be submitted via e-mail to stephanie-huntington@uiowa.edu.
Meetings
- SI Leaders will have biweekly 1:1 meetings with their supervisor, biweekly 1:1 meetings with their course’s Professor, and three all-team meetings in the fall*.
- PLUS Leaders will have biweekly 1:1 meetings with their supervisor, bi-weekly PLUS team meetings, and will participate in three all-team meetings in the fall*.
